The 11th edition of the International Conference on ICT, Society and Human Beings (ICT 2018) (part of the IADIS Multi Conference on Computer Science and Information Systems 2018) was held in Madrid, Spain, during 17 -19 July, 2018.

This conference was organized by the International Association for Development of the Information Society (IADIS).

The effects of ICT on human beings as well as the interaction between ICT, individuals, and society were all within the center of this conference. Both analyses of interactions and effects were important. Changes in behaviour, perspectives, values, competencies, human and psychological aspects and feelings were all of interest. Reflections on past, present, and future challenges – especially planning for handling the latter were encouraged. In general, all types of research strategies were encouraged, and especially cross-disciplinary and multi-disciplinary studies. The main topics for submissions were: Globalization and ICT; Life environment and ICT; Life role and ICT; ICT and effects on humans; Perspectives on ICT; Desirable goals and ICT and Actions for reaching the Good Information Society.

This edition was published jointly with: 10th International Conference on e-Health 2018 and the 15th International Conference Web Based Communities and Social Media 2018. These conferences received 126 submissions from more than 27 countries. Each submission had been anonymously reviewed by an average of five independent reviewers, to ensure that accepted submissions were of a high standard. Consequently, only 20 full papers were approved which means an acceptance rate of 16%. A few more papers were accepted as short papers, reflection papers and poster.

Extended versions of the best papers were selected to be published in:

- the IADIS International Journal on WWW/Internet (IJWI). ISSN: 1645-7641
- IADIS International Journal on Computer Science and Information Systems (ISSN: 1646-3692)

In addition to the presentation of the papers, this event also included two keynote presentations by Prof. Dr. Rosa M.
